School Enrollment Climbs Faster Than Statisticians Can Predict

School population is growing faster than predicted here, on the basis of new figures released by the School Committee.

Predictions in 1960 were for 3,708 to 3,987 students in 1963.

But now it looks like there will be at least 4,115 in all grades. Louis Warlick, who headed a committee in 1960, which prepared a forecast of school population to 1970, reviewed the figures this month.

His new estimate of school population in September is 128 more than the maximum predicted less than three years ago.

And the prediction for 1970 -

Budgets Being Cut, But Increase Looms

FinCom Head Has No Reply

Finance Committee Chairman Phillip B. Marsden Jr. refused to answer inquiries Tuesday, concerning the cost and income figures being used by that Committee in its study of Urban Renewal.

He was asked by the Townsman whether the FinCom is using the set of figures agreed upon at a meeting Jan. 17, or whether there is additional material available to the FinCom.

"We have nothing to say at all", Mr. Marsden stated crisply.

"When the time comes we'll make known our decision", he added.

When the Townsman editor noted that the inquiry was merely to find out whether the FinCom is using the same information that was agreed upon by other town boards

A man-sized increase in the town department budgets - $261,774 above appropriations a year ago - is being gradually whittled down by the Finance Committee, according to Town Manager Thomas E. Duff.

He reported to the Selectmen Monday night that the total budget submitted to the FinCom is $2,231,529, compared to $1,969,755 appropriated a year ago.

But the Finance Committee already has lopped over $60,000 from the budgets, he continued, and is still working over the figures.

Although the present increase would result in a tax rate increase of some $2.60 to $2.75, Duff impressed the Board that the figures are by no means final.

The Selectmen spent three hours going over the departmental budgets, getting their answers from the town manager rather

Over 2 Million In New Buildings

Permits were issued in 1962 for 151 new houses, and garages, at an estimated value of $2,429,610.

Inspector Arthur W. Peatman, in his annual report, also listed the total valuation for all work requiring permits as $4,175,728. The town received $5,680 in fees from the building inspector's office.

In addition to permits for new homes, the following were issued: Business, 16, value of $379,000; swimming pools, 10, $20,500; foundations, 21, $40,700; educational, five, $512,000; alterations and repairs, 218, value of $326,745; garages, 16, $22,000; miscellaneous, $445,173.

Mr. Peatman noted that a lot of activity resulted from Route 495 land takings. Of 97 permits issued to raze buildings, 83 were to demolish houses for the highway. Elevators were inspected, and 12 operators' licenses were issued. There was one installation permit and 43 elevator tests.

The inspector issued 67

Jaycees To Aid Renewal

The Junior Chamber of Commerce has endorsed Urban Renewal, and set up a committee to present information to residents of the town prior to town meeting.

The Jaycee activity, under which Urban Renewal falls, is the category of "Community Development", a state and nationally-sponsored item.

The action came after hearing about the plan from Ernest N. Hall, executive director of the project; David MacDonald Jr., chairman of the Housing Authority; and Robert Jeffreys, a member of the Realty Trust.

The Jaycees stated that they "heartily endorse and support an Urban Renewal program for Andover which utilizes sound principles of organized, municipal planning and renewal, to foster an expansion of the town's economic ANDOVER VALUE DAYS - Friday and Saturday are big shopping days in Andover, through the cooperation of most merchants in the community. Here, Miss Mary Ann Bonelli and Chairman Robert Phinney of the Board of Trade Retail Committee display the Value Days banner, identifying each of the participating stores.

Such a plan should provide for new town facilities, including a town hall, police station and fire station, with adequate off-street parking and improved traffic flow.

"It should encompass provisions for suitable relocation for all renewal area businessmen and families, utilize principles of a phased-renewal, give preference in redevelopment to local concerns, solicit new business which will complement local retail firms and incorporate adequate controls for fiscal integrity."

Named to head up the committee activity were Gerald A. Silverman, State Director Atty. Joel R. Labell, Alphe Hamel and Joseph Faro.

PERSONAL
Stephen Trachy, 24 York st., is recuperating from a broken leg suffered in a fall.

Andona Society Gives Classes

A meeting of the Andona Society of Andover was held recently at the Shawsheen Manor.

After a short business meeting, the members enjoyed a program arranged by the provisional members on home decoration and design. The speaker was Helen Read, a member of the A.I.D. and the owner of a North Andover decorator shop. Mrs. Read brought many interesting and beautiful coordinated displays of fabrics, wall paper, and rugs, and illustrated how an entire home could be tastefully decorated by following one predominant color scheme.

During the winter, Andona, along with its other Youth Center sponsored activities, is conducting afternoon classes in arts and crafts, cooking and knitting at the Center. At the present time, a five weeks course in arts and crafts is being given for children, ages 7-12, by two Andona members, Mrs. Jerald J. Hart- rich and Mrs. Jason C. Wright. The cooking and knitting classes are scheduled to start in the near future.

WOMEN MET

Thirty-five members of the United Church Women met for their annual meeting at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Minard, 210 Main st., last Friday morning. Miss Evelyn Jenkins displayed oriental art objects collected on her trip to Japan two years ago.

LONG DISTANCE RUNNERS - Private First Class Larrie H. Sweet, left, and Specialist Ralph Buschmann of Andover, US Army Garrison, Fort Detrick, Frederick, Md., display some of the trophies that they have earned in distance running events.

Runs 100 Miles Weekly, Training For Marathon

Private First Class Larrie H. Sweet and Specialist Ralph Buschmann of Andover, Headquarters Company, U. S. Army Garrison, Fort Detrick, Frederick, Md., can be seen any day, in any kind of weather, running around the parade ground or up some street, at noon and in the evening. They average about 100 miles a week in their preparations for AAU and Baltimore Athletic Club distance competition around the country.

Sweet, a graduate ceramic engineer from Alfred University, class of 1961, has stacked up a formidable supply of trophies for his efforts, including that of being named as a member of the ALL American College Cross Country Team. In college he consistently turned in near record time. In the 880 yard dash he broke the tape in 1:53; the mile in 4:14; and the two mile in 9:20.

Specialist Buschmann, 23, a chemical laboratory specialist, went to Detrick in December, 1961, following basic training at Fort McClellan, Alabama. He is a graduate of Punchard High School, and received a B.S. degree in chemistry from the University of Massachusetts, Amherst, in 1961. He participated in track and field in high school and college, making such times as 4:24 in the mile; 9:44 in the two mile; and two minutes in the half mile. Since he has been out of college, his time in the distances has steadily improved. In a recent AAU sponsored 25 kilometer road race, run at American University, Washington, Buschmann bettered the national mark for the course by nearly two minutes, covering the distance in one hour and 23 seconds. The national record is 1:25:54.

Buschmann is pointing his efforts toward competing in the Boston Marathon which will be run April 19. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Helmut V. Buschmann, live on Route One, North Wilmington.

Question Adding Truck, One Man

Should the town put a truck and a second man to work at the dump? That question seems to be causing a mild stir in official circles this week, with differences of opinion shaping up between the Selectmen and Finance Committee.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff has asked to keep one of the DPW trucks that normally will be traded this year, and use it at the dump to haul fill. The extra man will operate the truck and help control the traffic and dumping habits of the townspeople.

It appeared Monday night that the Finance Committee has turned down the request. But Chairman Russell G. Doyle of the Selectmen wants to discuss the issue - he and the manager point out that the man at the dump can not do all the work.

They claim that people dump refuse everywhere and anywhere, then set it on fire. If the present employee is busy on the tractor, there is no adequate control, they explain.

Mr. Duff said he believes it will not be possible to borrow equipment from the highway and cemetery departments, as suggested by the FinCom, because the period of greatest need for the equipment occur in all of the departments at one time.

There was no conclusion reached, but it appeared that further discussions will be held before final decisions are made.

ATTENDED CONFERENCE

Rev. J. Allyn Bradford of the Free Christian Church recently attended a three day Cooperative Planning Conference held at Chicopee.

Mr. Bradford serves as a member of the Board of Directors of the Massachusetts Council of Churches, the group sponsoring the Conference.

Over 100 representatives were in attendance and various planning sessions were held. Greatly stressed was co-operating planning between various Protestant Denominations and of special interest was the emphasis being placed on other steps in Christian Unity.

The Greenleaf Bridge Club will meet Tuesdays at 10 a.m. at the Andover Youth Center on Brook St. The group has been meeting at the November Club.

Alumni Group Met At Pike

Nearly 100 alumni and a large group of The Pike School faculty met at the annual reunion, recently at the school.

As has been true of other years, the most recent graduating class returned in the largest numbers - over two-thirds of the class were present. The classes of 1960 and 1959 were second in returning graduates, each with one-third of the class represented. Unfortunately, because a number of the schools had not yet closed for the holidays, a group of alumni were unable to come.

Mrs. Cynthia Pike, the school's founder, came from her home in Warner, N. H. and renewed acquaintance with the 13 "early graduates". All were recognizable to Mrs. Pike even though she had not seen some for more than 20 years. They included Lynie (Riggs) Bernardin, and her brother, Burnham Riggs, Fritz Osther, Frank and Ann Reynolds, George and Connie (Weldon) LeMaitre, Joan Lamprey, John Bride, Bill and Anne (Higgins) Bride, John Shaw and Frank Leone.

When charged with possession of a phenomenal power of recognition, Mrs. Pike remarked that her memory was hardly burdened. She indicated that the "old timers" looked very much the same to her as they had when they were undergraduates "only some thinner, some fatter, some taller."

Mrs. Little, the school's second principal, was unable to attend because she spent the holidays out of town with her family, but she has already made arrangements for being present at future reunion occasions.

A landmark of a sort was established with the formal adoption of a constitution for the Alumni Association. A slate of officers was presented and elected. Fritz Osther '49, president; Susan Hill '57, secretary; and Frank Reynolds '44, treasurer assumed their offices at the dinner. The officers preside over a membership of more than 350 recorded graduates. During the course of the dinner, Headmaster, William Harding welcomed the group and Mrs. Richard Hornidge, alumni advisor, explained to them how much had been done towards developing a formal and interested alumni organization. Margot Harding, class secretary '56, read the draft of the constitution and subsequent action adopted it as a basis for the working alumni organization.

Bridge Party To Aid Fund

The Scholarship Committee of the Shawsheen Village Women's Club met recently at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Paul Gyring, to formulate plans for a bridge party to be held Feb. 14 at 7 p.m. at the Andover Country Club.

Each year the Shawsheen Club gives scholarships to two deserving seniors who are planning to further their education. Last year the scholarships were presented to Karen Fiedler and Beaven.

In order for the Club to continue to perform this commendable service, it is necessary for the committee to receive the full support of the Club membership.

However it is hoped that the townspeople will also add their worthy cause and join with the Shawsheen Club for a pleasant afternoon of bridge.

Reservations are now available and may be secured from a member of the committee, according to the reservations chairman, Mrs. Thomas Puglisi.

Other committee members include Mrs. George Gliss, chairman; Mrs. James G. Michael, decorations; Mrs. Mary Ratynski, door prizes; Mrs. Marvin Beck, Mrs. Chester Kopacz, Mrs. Homer Judge, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Robert Campbell, Mrs. Allen Kryzinski, Mrs. Allen Buckman, Mrs. A. Morris Campbell, Mrs. Charles McCullough, Mrs. Bruno Wojtkin and Mrs. G. Lamanna.

M.S.P.C.A. WANTS BEDDING SUPPLY

Mr. David S. Clafin, administrator of the Mass. S.P.C.A. Angell Memorial Animal Hospital, Boston, has issued an urgent appeal for bedding for the hospital.

At the present time, the supply of blankets and sheeting is at a very low point. There is a great need for bedding in all the wards of the hospital - the contagious wards have the greatest need, however.

Mr. Clafin asks all animal lovers who have any clean, discarded blankets or sheets, to send them to the Angell Memorial Animal Hospital, 180 Longwood Ave., Boston. All donations will be gratefully received and promptly acknowledged.

Mr. and Mrs. David Robb, 38 Burnham rd., Cummings, weekend guests at the home of Mr. Robb's mother, Mrs. Robb, 38 Burnham rd.

Open House Is Feb. 5

MRS. JOHN J. FLOURNOY JR.

All parents of children who will be four years old before Dec. 3, 1963, are cordially invited to attend an "Open House" at the Free Church Cooperative Pre-School Feb. 5 at 7:45 in the Lower Parish Hall.

The Pre-School is in its fifth year. The school is organized as a pure co-operative for families who want to share in their child's first big break with home environment. This means that one mother assists the teacher every school day, that the parents are responsible for the budget, for hiring the teacher and purchasing and maintaining equipment. The school is non-denominational.

Serving on this year's Executive Board are Mrs. John J. Flournoy Jr., president; Mrs. David Anderson and Mrs. Robert Kent, vice presidents; Mrs. Meredith Russell, membership; Mrs. Donald Sawyer, secretary; Mrs. Arthur Polsson, treasurer and Mrs. Thayer Warsaw, teacher.

Folk Singing Program Feb. 5

A variety of folk singing acts - portraying folk music in some of its many facets - will be featured at Merrimack College in North Andover, when the On-Stagers Hootenanny is presented in the College gymnasium Tuesday, Feb. 5.

Scheduled to begin at 8 p.m., the folk music event is the second on campus this school year, and is expected to draw a large audience.

Headlining the acts will be the Charles River Valley Boys, featured performers at the Club 47 in Boston and known not only for their singing, but also for their virtuoso strumming of guitar, banjo, bass and occasionally a washboard. The troupe has recently made a nationally-released recording.

Another of the folk singers will be Dave Greenburg, a Boston University student, who adheres to the traditional styles.

On the same bill will be Dayle Stanley, a Boston area ballad singer who specializes in Scotch airs, and Dave Kewskin, a "beat" from California recently arrived in Boston and now making quite a stir in the Bay City coffee houses.

Tickets for the event will be available at the door. Those planning to attend are urged to come in informal attire and to bring a blanket. The affair is open to the general public.

REFUSES TO REPLY ON STATISTICS

and officials, Mr. Marsden once again refused to either confirm or deny the question.

At the Jan. 17 meeting, Mr. Marsden had told the gathering that the Finance Committee would not either agree or disagree with the figures being compiled. He said then that the financial aspects will be considered in light of all other town expenditures, and the town's ability to pay. But he made it clear that the FinCom was not accepting or rejecting the figures presented at the meeting.

There had been some speculation afterwards as to what statistics the Committee is using in its study, thus the inquiry was made.

Mardi Gras Ball Next Week

MRS. LUIS SALAZAR

You are apt to see a friendly masked jester peeking out from behind a red heart almost anywhere you go these days - he is inviting one and all to "Come to the Mardi Gras".

A fund-raising event for the benefit of the Massachusetts Heart Association, the Mardi Gras Ball is a long anticipated social affair that will be held Friday evening, Feb. 8, at the Andover Country Club. It is sponsored by the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

George Graham's orchestra and featured vocalist will provide the music.

Judge Vinciguerra, who has won fame locally by assisting the Lions in raising money for the blind at Christmas time with his artistic creations, will help decorate the Country Club. A thousand heart shaped balloons will also add a festive note to the occasion and a beautifully appointed table, graced by a cake over six feet tall, will be attractive to both the eye and palate. Two large tables will also be laden with tantalizing Hors D'oeuvres and waiters will assist patrons in serving themselves throughout the evening.

Highlight will be the Grand March, when prizes will be awarded to those in the most outstanding costumes.

Costumes do not have to be worn, however. Masks will be furnished free of charge to those desiring to wear regular clothing.

Judges will be Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Harem, Judge and Mrs. J. Vinciguerra, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Duff and Lester T. Newell.

Mardi Gras Dance chairman is Mrs. Luis Salazar; Mrs. David G. Cronin is chairman of the committee.

Decorations, Mrs. John McCarthy; program, Mrs. Joseph Adams; special mailing, Mrs. Frank Jones; posters, Mrs. William B. Kent Jr.; Mrs. Daniel A. Thoren; Mrs. Frank H. Report On Town Buildings

A professional estimator has placed the construction cost of all three municipal buildings at $1,309,350.

And Building Study Committee Chairman Arthur W. Peatman believes the figures to be high, because preliminary plans were submitted to the estimator. He judged that whenever there was a question, the estimate was given on the high side.

He reported to the Selectmen that $190,650 has been estimated for site acquisition and preparation, and for relocating High St. - outside of the proposed Urban Renewal program.

Thus the final total, if done without Urban Renewal, is $1,500,000.

After a brief mathematical dispute among Committee members and Selectman B. Allan Rowland, it finally was determined that the square foot cost of the new buildings will be $28.40 on the average. Mr. Peatman said this probably would be lower, when construction bids are sought, because he noted in various trade magazines that municipal con-

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

When Silence Isn't Golden

Many people were just a little amazed when the Finance Committee sat silent through the recent Urban Renewal discussions on common statistics of the program.

The meeting was designed to find an agreeable set of figures — costs and income — which can be considered by everyone. The meeting was not, and did not, agree on whether Urban Renewal is good or bad; it did not agree on whether the town can afford or not afford the program.

The Finance Committee took the position that it will consider Urban Renewal and municipal building costs, in relation to the rest of the town's expenditures, and its ability to carry the financial load.

But it had been expected that the FinCom would agree or disagree with the figures being compiled — basically, it is essential that the FinCom studies the same cost and income figures that everyone else is considering. Otherwise, they could be using some set of figures apart from the ones agreed upon by nearly everyone present.

No one asked the Finance Committee to make a decision for or against the program; all that was being asked was agreement that they, too, would study the same cost, the same income figures that everyone else is debating.

Excellent Quality

Now that nomination papers have been filed, it is obvious that good contests for each of the three top municipal jobs will be waged.

The voters may even have a tough time picking their candidates — the quality is, in general, high.

Although it looked for some time as though there would be too few candidates to offer a good choice, there was a surge of weekend activity. The old waiting game seems to have been played more than ever this year — individuals waiting to see who else went into the race, then assessing their own chances.

All in all, it looks like an interesting and productive election for the town.

Good Job

The town's highway department deserves a pat on the back for the snow removal job over last weekend.

The roads were in excellent shape Monday; the snow had been removed from the main shopping area when most people came to work Monday.

Supt. Stanley Chlebowsky and the whole crew have earned public thanks, throughout this winter of cold and slippery going, for their efforts in keeping streets usable.

Films For Groups

A film of special interest to art lovers is "Art and Life in Italy" a ten minute color production that may be borrowed from the library from now until Feb. 15. Here the art of Italy is shown as a result of the activities of the Italian people in their own land. Photographs included are scenes on the streets of Florence, Giotto's frescoes in the Arena chapel in Padua, and views of other historical monuments and works of art.

For a few days, from Feb. 4 through 8 only, there is a second film of interest to any art group because of the method of which the narrator presents his historical information. This is a 22 minute film, "The Face Of Lincoln", and begins with an egg-shaped mass of clay in the hands of Professor Gage. Professor Gage swiftly fashions a bust of the martyred President of our country and as he tells anecdotes of Lincoln's life he ages the face from that of a young man to that of a man with the great burden of his role.

Films may be borrowed on short notice, but the library recommends that any group interested in showing them make reservation as early as possible to avoid disappointment.

New Magazine

To some readers who have watched the birth and death of periodicals over the years there is always a query as a new one presents itself to the public: "What can this one offer?" The Memorial Hall Library has added "Current", a reprint monthly which it hopes will find many readers. Current's editors and multi-lingual researchers extract and arrange material from any source, provided it makes a genuine contribution in idea, in substance or in clarification to the understanding or solution of a significant problem. The publishers state that they are concerned with problems which seriously affect our democratic way of life, which take account of the physical and social sciences, and which involve unanswered questions. Most of its articles are in the writers' own words, not presented as a digest but in sufficient scope to have meaning. They do not pretend to present "both sides" of questions or concepts with which reader is already familiar, but hope that from the 600 periodicals examined each month they will bring sound and good thinking on the problems of our day to its readers.

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago — January, 1888

Officer Clukey, while arresting a driver for delivering illicit liquors in Ballardvale, was threatened with having his head smashed.

Tyer Rubber Co. is moving its packaging and shipping department from the Boston store to the local plant.

The new fire alarm boxes are ready and will be installed during the week. The Townsman is going to print instruction on how to use them, in the next issue.

Because the snow blocked the railroad tracks last week, the Ballardvale news for last week's paper was delayed, and is being printed this week.

50 Years Ago — January, 1913

Emily Thompson has been quite ill at her home on School st.

John Gillespie of the Tyer pricing department has left for a position in Winnipeg, Manitoba.

Melville Day has given $65,000 to Phillips Academy for his third dormitory, called Taylor Hall.

"Mr. Bob" was presented by the Punchard Alumni, with Edmond Hammond as the yachtman, Anne Gillen as his cousin, Madeleine Hewes as the maiden lady, Eva Howell in the title role, Archie Mayo as a lawyer, Cynthia Flint as her maid. Roland Lindsay was the butler.

The Board of Railroad Commissioners has ordered the trains to stop blowing their whistles at the Ballardvale and Lowell Junction crossings except in emergencies.

The School Board wants an annual appropriation of $41,380.

25 Years Ago — January, 1938

Town appropriations controlled by the selectmen may increase by $75,000 this year, bringing about a record tax rate. About $15,000 in spending means $1 on the tax rate.

With two weeks left to file nomination papers, interest has temporarily died down. There are 16 candidates for tax collector, but speculation is that the number will be reduced before election.

The Church and Parish are planning a reception for the new minister of the West Parish Church Sunday afternoon. He is the Rev. Donald H. Savage.

Two local officers joined an area manhunt this morning, after a Tewksbury resident killed one man and shot four others. The man was captured in Woburn later in the day.

10 Years Ago — January, 1953

A general wage increase, not to exceed $5 weekly for any full-time employee, will be acted on at town meeting. The selectmen have put the article in the warrant. Raymond LaRosa has filed a town meeting article asking the voters to decide whether the selectmen's meetings shall be open to the public or not.

Petitions have been filed to increase the School Committee from five to nine members. The Board was reduced from nine to five only a few years ago.

Special articles in the warrant this year would have the town spend $197,600.

Frederick Fitzgerald has been elected moderator of the Free Christian Church at the annual meeting held earlier this week.

Leaves Shut Valves To Stop Water Loss

Leaves of evergreen rhododendron cup or curl on a cold winter day not so much because of cold but to keep the plant from losing too much moisture.

Dr. Philip L. Rusden says cold air has less moisture than warm air. When cold arrives, accompanied by winds that suck moisture from leaves, a rhododendron reacts by shriveling its leaves. It closes its doors to the cold. What happens is this:

The upper side of a rhododendron leaf is leathery. The underside is softer, dappled with thousands of stomata or tiny air valves. These valves open and close to control the flow of water vapor and air in and out of a leaf.

So when cold and high winds arrive and more moisture is lost than can be replaced by root absorption, a signal goes out to tiny guard cells that actuate the stomata. The valves are shut.

Then when the surrounding air warms up again, with its accompanying higher moisture content, the guard cells expand and the stomata open again. Rhododendron leaves resume their normal shape.

A similar drooping reaction occurs on a rhododendron during excessive heat of a midsummer day. Water balance triggers the response more than temperature fluctuation, although both go hand in hand.

NEW ADDRESS

Mr. and Mrs. William Bartoshevich, formerly of Morton st., are now residing in their new home at 138 High Plain rd., with their two children.

What Our Readers Say—

To the Editor of the Townsman: "In the Jan. 17 issue, four superior editorials, the following views came to mind with respect to 'Wanted: Leadership' and 'Conflict Of Interest'."

"Conspicuous because of its lack, is leadership in our office of selectmen. Under the manager plan, the selectmen are supposed to have all the facilities for gathering information, then having devised 2 or 3, or more methods for solving a problem, choosing the best and presenting to the citizens."

"But for some reason or other the present selectmen and manager have seldom given us this essential characteristic said to be inherent in the form of government we have. Consequently, we need a selectman who can reduce a given problem to words, direct the office of management to compose the possible solutions, have the selectmen choose one which seems most beneficial for the town, then present it to the citizens. That is how policy is formed. To the extent that has not been done during the past four years, we have been paying for more than we have been receiving."

"With respect to the Conflict of Interest Law, in Andover, some reason why we have not had the leadership for which we have been paying is that public officials are in the position of having to make decisions which might be contrary to their private interests."

"A lumber dealer can hardly be objective with respect to housing speculation, a selectman can hardly be objective when his works for the town, and the state wide political party position to formulate town policy that is contrary to party objectives. But all that is hardly reason to water down the law. Rather, the best possible reason for such a law. And it is more reason why Andover is not getting the leadership for which it pays."

To the Editor of the Townsman: "It astonishes me to hear you see the way Mr. Hall and the committee are pushing Urban Renewal. To hear them tell about things that will happen if we adopt this government model is amazing."

"Why do we want to wreck town? Is this a real estate party? Andover has wonderful scenery with past real estate booms. It will have more of them, but not with government money."

"From what I've seen of Urban Renewal benefits in Lawrence, say Andover has no desire for the same kind of destruction."

"Why can't we learn from experience that government money is spent to wreck, not erect?"

"So regardless of what Mr. Hall and the Renewal Committee wreckers say, Andover is a town. If they think they can run a store business, they better get with the Lawrence merchants in spite of all the golden promises of Urban Renewal, stores leaving Essex st. to open up where. So why do we need a disaster?"

"There is already a lot of cry from Florence st. residents. The wreckers are already at work there."

"Phillips Brooks said: 'It's a sane, sober, practical town'. So for continued sanity, let us now enjoy the town, thank God, and may He protect from Urban Renewal blight!"

Realty Trust Is Moving Forward

Andover's Realty Trust is in the process of becoming a legal entity, according to Robert Jeffreys, spokesman for the group of local businessmen.

A sub-committee met Tuesday morning with Atty. Robert Zollner to go over by-laws and other legal details. Mr. Jeffreys said there should be action within a week towards securing commitments from the interested businessmen.

It has been reported that at least 18 merchants and business people have specifically indicated their interest in taking part in such a corporation, established to handle Urban Renewal redevelopment and parking.

Mr. Jeffreys said there is no limit to the number of individuals who may take part - any resident, and any business, in the town will be welcome, he stated.

Preliminary financing, to handle the legal work and meet the expense of filing legal documents with the state, will be solicited soon. Mr. Jeffreys said he expects this will take place in the next few days. But he emphasized that lack of participation in the Trust at this time does not exclude anyone - that others will be welcome to take part in the future.

He also expressed the feeling that there is a changing climate in regard to the project, in that there is more interest being displayed in participation in the Trust.

Landscaping Is Meeting Topic

The February meeting of the Andover Garden Club will be held at the Andover Country Club, Feb. 5, at 9:45 a.m.

Morning coffee will precede the meeting, after which the speaker, Daniel Foley, will speak on "Landscaping For Small Homes". Mr. Foley, former editor of Horticulture magazine, is well known to members of the Club and Federation members.

Newcomers Are Invited To Session

The Newcomers Club has invited all interested people to be present at an open meeting Feb. 4, to be held at Christ Church on Central st., for the purpose of learning about Andover - education, history, recreation and government. The time is 8 p.m. and refreshments will be served. A small donation will be accepted. Mrs. David Kneeland of Bancroft rd., chairman, may be contacted for further information.

TWO CANDIDATES' NIGHTS SCHEDULED BY LEAGUE

Two Candidates' Nights will be held prior to the election March 4, under sponsorship of the League of Women Voters.

Central School will be the scene of the first meeting, Feb. 12, at 8 p.m. The second will take place in the High School auditorium Feb. 26.

Candidates will have three minutes to speak, and then will be asked to answer questions submitted in writing from the floor.

Additionally, any interested resident can send questions to Mrs. Jerome Andrews Jr., 62 Porter rd. or Mrs. George Edmonds, Pemberton Cottage, off Main st., in advance of the meetings.

Town May Hire Co-op Students

Two Northeastern University students may be hired by the town, to serve in the engineering department.

The town manager has suggested that the men he hired, and has included money in the budget for this purpose. He pointed out Monday night that the engineer has no one to go out on surveywork. Thus he asks for untrained help from other departments. A saving in time could result, the manager believes, by having engineering students serve in the department. He said a number of towns, and some of the consulting engineers, utilize the services of students.

Dr. Hugh Penney, interim pastor of the West Church, spent the weekend in New York City.

Appeal Board To Hear Case

One basic question will be posed, at a hearing by the Board of Appeals Feb. 7:

Is a Florence st. lot zoned for business or residential use?

That appears to be the substance of the disagreement between neighbors near the junction of Florence and Park sts., and local men who have obtained a building permit for an office building there.

The Florence st. residents, vigorously upset over the intrusion of an office building into what they call a residential area, contend that the building permit was issued in error, because the zone is residential and does not permit such a use.

The developers received the permit from Building Inspector Arthur W. Peatman and have stated that they assume the area is properly zoned, or the permit would not be issued.

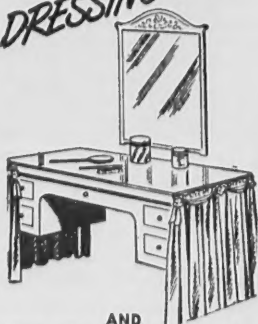

The hearing is an appeal against the issuance of the permit.

Decision Expected On Town Planner

The town may get some full-time planning, if budgeted items are approved by the Finance Committee and town meeting.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff, has included money in the budget for a "trial period", claiming that the town needs some continuity in its planning for land uses.

The Selectmen have suggested that the item might better be placed in a special article, so all the voters at town meeting can act on the concept of having a full-time planner.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kent, 369 Salem st., recently enjoyed a weekend at Thorn Hill Lodge, Jackson, N. H.
